

Benefits of being active

Choosing to move more across the day can really pay off.
Participating in regular physical activity can help to:

- Boost energy levels and improve mood
- Help to maintain a healthy weight
- Provide time with friends and family
- Improve sleep
- Lower rates of heart disease, high blood pressure, stroke and diabetes

Walking tips

1. Make walking part of your every day.

Choose a regular time and an activity that you enjoy and believe that you can turn into a habit:

- Walking your dog
- Walking with a friend and/or family member
- Taking the stairs instead of a lift
- Parking the car further away

If you are new to physical activity, it's best to start slowly, increasing the intensity and length of your workout as you go. You will see noticeable improvement within a few weeks if you are consistent.

2. Set yourself goals and make a plan.

Have a target in mind and set yourself goals. For example, plan on walking your favourite circuit 3 times a week.

3. Remember how good you will feel after being physical active.

We all have days where we don't feel like doing any physical activity, but before you decide to skip, think of how you will feel if you do the activity and then think of how you will feel if you don't do the activity.

Counting your steps

The goal of 10,000 steps per day is the recommended target for healthy adults. This goal encourages the accumulation of incidental activity throughout the whole day.

The 10,000 Steps Project encourages you to track your steps by using a pedometer, activity tracker or smart phone application. You may also record them on the 10,000 Steps website (www.10000steps.org.au) or a paper log to maintain motivation to reach your target.

Walking checklist

- Wear comfortable shoes
- Wear light coloured clothing, hat, sunglasses and sunscreen
- Walk in the morning or evening to avoid the heat of the day
- Drink plenty of water
- Walk at a moderate pace (can talk but not sing)
- Wear pedometer or activity tracker to make every step count!
